WTVI

CHARLOTTE

We want to thank all of you that are members of WTVI. Without you it wouldn't be possible. WTVI is an essential community resource that connects people in the heart of the Carolinas. Due to the recent county funding cut, this next year we will count on your contributions even more. Share WTVI with your friends and family and encourage them to become members in order that we may continue a 45-year tradition of not only great television, but also that we may continue to reach children and adults through our educational and outreach services.
