

Value

At WTVI we'll help you enhance your talents and skills by providing you with the real-world experience necessary to ensure successful career advancement. And who knows you may make lasting contacts that could be helpful to you in finding a job.

"The WTVI internship went beyond what I learned inside the classroom. It gave me a lot of 'real world' skills that proved helpful in launching my career" — Mickey

Remember today's competitive job market demands that you promote yourself much more aggressively. A degree is very important to what you can offer employers; however personal skills and experience play equally important roles. An internship is a chance to make some real connections.

A WTVI internship – consider it an investment in your future.

Criteria

You'll need to submit:

- A resume
- Two letters of recommendation
- An internship application

The application can be downloaded at www.wtvi.org.

Our internships are unpaid and will vary in duration. Qualified individuals must have strong communication and organizational skills. The ideal intern will be a team player, energetic, dedicated, self-motivated, creative and responsible.

Why Intern?

Do you have a passion for documentary films? Are you interested in post production or programming? Do you have the drive for fundraising? A yes answer means there could be a career for you in television.

You'll need experience to jumpstart your career. One way to get that experience is through an internship. The WTVI Internship Program is designed to give you an opportunity to gain an enhanced understanding of television production and other aspects of station operations through meaningful and challenging work assignments. It also allows WTVI to participate in the educational process by providing a practical, first-hand television work experience.

The Experience and Exposure

- Be part of the production
- Write news releases and promotion spots for publicity
- Plan a community forum or outreach and educational event
- Analyze statistical data

The WTVI Internship Program is an opportunity for you to get an inside look at a number of positions available in the television industry:

Directing & Producing Videography
Audio mixing
